

VALERIA SANCHEZ GARCIA

FOOD SAFETY TRAINER

EXPERIENCE IN STANDARDS

BACKGROUND

Her professional background is as a food science graduate, with more than 5 years of experience in the interpretation and implementation of accreditation requirements in food safety standards for Global Standards S.C.

She has extensive experience as an auditor and instructor in food safety, with expertise in sectors such as food packaging, shelf stable food, food supplements, confectioneries, honey and syrups, and agri-food, among others. Within Global Standards S.C. she has served as Certification Coordinator; as a member of the technical certification committee for FSSC 22000, ISO 22000, Global Markets, HACCP, and GMP standards; as a technical reviewer in the SQF, FSVP, and FSAP (FDA) schemes; and following up on audits and requirements of accreditation bodies.

Has been responsible for GlobalSTD QMS, based on ISO 9001 and ISO/IEC 17021.

She currently works as an instructor and technical content developer for online courses in management systems.

She is a PCQI and has been the coordinator of second-party audits developing and implementing process flows, and safety and quality audit checklists according to customer requirements. And she has participated as a speaker in different forums related to the food industry.